

Public Charter High School

ENGLISH TEACHING POSITION

Thurgood Marshall Academy Public Charter High School is a law-themed college preparatory high school in Washington, DC, serving 385 students in grades 9–12. The school is located in a renovated 50,000 square foot state-of-the-art educational facility in Anacostia, has been serving youth from southeast Washington, DC, since 2001.

The mission of the school is to prepare students to be successful in college and to actively participate in our democratic society. The school is an academically rigorous and demanding dedicated to improving the educational opportunities of students. TMA creates an environment that fosters critical thinking, problem solving and public advocacy skills by combining a comprehensive, standards-based curriculum with education about law, democracy and human rights. The school has established challenging academic and social expectations for its students and has been uncompromising in its commitment to those high expectations.

Thurgood Marshall Academy is currently seeking applicants for English teaching positions for the 2010–11 school year.

Applicants should be passionate, energetic and dedicated to working with under served youth. Candidates should have relentless commitment to educating and engaging our students in their academic pursuits.

Minimum Qualifications: B.A/B.S in related field; candidates with prior teaching experience and/or certification strongly encouraged to apply.

Thurgood Marshall Academy encourages applications from people with diverse backgrounds.

Thurgood Marshall Academy offers a competitive salary and benefits package. Thurgood Marshall Academy is an equal opportunity employer.

To Apply

Please submit cover letter and resume by e-mail to Alexandra Pardo at teach@tmapchs.org. Please indicate “English Teacher” in the subject field.